LINK 2022-NOW

- Typography skills: As a graphic designer, you must be able to arrange words and letters in a visually appealing way.
- Font selection: Font type, size and weight all affect the appearance of your designs and may influence the way people perceive your message, so you must be able to choose an appropriate font for each project.
- Ability to follow branding guidelines: Branding guidelines are standards used to determine how a brand will be presented to audience members. To succeed in the industry, you must be able to follow these guidelines closely.
- Design principles: Successful graphic designers know how to use white space, color, hierarchy and other principles to compose well-balanced designs.
